

Curriculum Vitae

Name
Akira Fujimoto
Position title
President, National Institute of Technology, Numazu College
Education
1972 Graduated from Department of electrical engineering, National Institute of Technology, Nara College, Nara Japan
1990 Doctor of Engineering from Osaka University, Osaka Japan
Professional experience
2015–present	President, National Institute of Technology, Numazu College
2009–2011	Vice President, National Institute of Technology, Wakayama College
1998–2015	Professor, National Institute of Technology, Wakayama College
1995–1996	Visiting Scientist, Cornell University
1992–1998	Associate Professor, National Institute of Technology, Wakayama College
1991–1992	Assistant Professor, National Institute of Technology, Wakayama College
1978–1979	Visiting Scientist, National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology
1972–1991	Researcher, Omron Corporation
Professional memberships & service
Editorial Board, The Institute of Electrical Engineers of Japan Member, Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers Member, The Japan Society of Applied Physics Member, The Japan Society for Engineering Education Member, Japan Association of Chemical Sensors Member, The Society of Sensing Technology of Japan
Research, scholarly & teaching interests
Research field was compound semiconductors for light emitting diode in Omron Corporation. Recently, I am developing the smell distinguish sensor by using semiconductor gas sensor. I am also interested in development of the local foods using Kansei engineering.		